INTRODUCTION

Music is a cultural tool that is present in society as an establishment of social reality as described in the form of song lyrics. Besides that, not a few lyrics flanked by music in a song also give a certain meaning depending on what song is being sung, so from this, when someone listens to the lyrics of the song simultaneously, they will try to study and understand the meaning of the lyrics of the song and the person who sings it. Music incorporates literary and linguistic components that complement each other's roles and purposes. Because it uses significant words and sentences, music may express messages, feelings, and interpersonal contact (Abdul, 2018). On the other hand, study by Lerik and Prawitasari (2005) found that listening to music can help people feel less depressed, be more motivated to learn, and have better attention or tranquility. Soothing or slow music. Submission of communication messages can be through several intermediaries, one of which is the media music. Music is one of the creative arts that has a strong relationship with public. In the song there are usually lyrics used by the singer to deliver communication messages. Music severs not only to entertain, but also can provide a knowledge of a particular meaning. In other words, music is not inseparable from social life. Music is considered included in the media the easiest delivering terms of the emotional aspect because music usually has a duration short ones (Miftahurrezky & Anshory, 2021). The music contains song lyrics if it contains a certain message is divided into two, namely the implied meaning and express (Fitroh, 2019).

BTS made a comeback with their contemporary line BE to start a new era in 2020. BTS provides the opportunity for people to honestly express their tangled feelings everywhere there is a sense of weakness. The worry and concern this situation caused, but also the confidence that I could overcome any difficulties. Rarely did an artist write a brand-new song about the pandemic while it was happening. BTS who released a single song title "Dynamite" on August 24, 2020. In order to usher in a new age in 2020. BTS made a comeback with their modern line, BE. BTS provides the opportunity for people to honestly express their tangled feelings everywhere there is a sense of weakness. The worry and concern this situation caused, but also the confidence that I could overcome any difficulties. The reassuring statement that BTS has released the album return dubbed "BE"-which includes the songs Life Goes On, Dis-ease, Stay, Fly to My Room, Telepathy, Blue & Grey, skit, and dynamite-in the face of starlings is echoed in a cry. With the release of their most recent album "BE" on Friday, 10/20, BTS made their return to the music scene. The researcher is first interested in knowing more specifically about the connections between phenomena and the author's feelings when writing a piece, as well as the connections between moral principles, the process of learning a foreign language through popular meaning, and character and moral ideals. To address this, the researcher uses a literature-critical technique called the mimetic and expressive values strategy, which has been found appropriate for this topic.

First, this study's two methodologies are perfectly suitable for identifying the truth portrayed in literary works as well as the author's creative process in songs that reflect the composers' emotions and thoughts. The best method for analyzing this research topic is content analysis because it examines the range of literary items. In his 1960 book Introduction to Literary Studies, Willian asserted that, in general, literature always imparts good ideals to humanity. Ideal literary and creative works provide their readers or audiences with value through a string of exquisitely chosen and pleasant phrases. Literature continues to be a haven for the intellect, a source of spiritual satisfaction, and a guide for those looking for high moral standards in life in every century. Besides, they learn English or improve their vocabulary using songs of pop or other genres, they stay motivated and have fun while learning (Syamsu, Awaluddin., Muhajir, 2022), especially through music which is a beautiful work of literature. Music is one way to practice vocabulary that has been learned in a context that is meaningful and fun. Pop songs that facilitate vocabulary development with a significant increase are "Mimetic and Expressive Value Content Analysis on the music album BE by BTS".

This study focused on the phrases, words, and sentences in the song lyrics on the BE Album (Deluxe Edition), as well as the composers' creative process for producing songs based on their individual viewpoints and experiences with the Covid-19 pandemic. both the subject of investigation and the linguistic construction used for it. As a result, the goal of this study is to communicate the message behind the song lyrics in the BE (deluxe Edition) music album. The research data for this study includes both the study's object and the surrounding environment's linguistic components (Kesuma Tti, 2007).

METHOD

Researchers employed content analysis and qualitative research in this study. The information was recorded verbally and examined in a qualitative research. In order to make inferences from a variety of linguistic, graphic, symbolic, and communicative data, the analysis of analysis was established (Krippendorff.K.H, 2003). Mimetic and expressive methodologies are used by researchers in their work. Researchers will describe the moral principles and meaning through this examination. Mimetic and expressive methodologies are used by researchers in their work. Researchers will explain the significance and moral principles based on the reality depicted in the song lyrics through this analysis. The creative process is the most crucial element in the creation of a song. It might be claimed that the author will employ information that is expressive. Analyze and compile your presumptions. It's done in a descriptive way. The researcher determines that the goal of the study is to identify moral principles and significance in the lyrics of the songs on the music album "BE" (Deluxe Edition) by BTS by analyzing the connection between reality and the songwriter's personality.

FINDING AND DISCUSSION

The researcher discovered four songs that fall under the category of mimetic analysis of various song lyrics. Type of expressive analysis using two songs and a number of lyric variables. However, some of the lyrics of the six songs that have been studied do have deeper meanings and moral principles. These moral principles are taught to kids in order to help them develop virtuous character. Mimetic and expressive analysis of BTS's album "BE: Deluxe Edition" based on the first study question. To answer the research question, the researcher analyzed the mimetic and expressive of the the album "BE" (Deluxe Edition) by BTS.

Mimetic analysis with song lyric “BE” (Deluxe Edition) music album By BTS.
Fly to My Room: “My dreams won't fit in this tiny space. Any emotion, including happiness and grief, is solely accepted here. If you hug me, even if sometimes this room becomes a dump of emotions”

“Room” is a broad noun or an area available for or used by several activities or objects. The verb “hold” means to have or be kept in the hands of someone. Humans' subjective emotional reactions to a person, thing, or circumstance are called emotions.

Life goes on: “There will come a moment when the world will abruptly end. Spring arrives exactly in time because it has no idea when to delay”. The noun “world” refers to the unremarkable condition of human life. Consequently, to stop is the past tense of stopping and means to put an instant end to (as an action or operation) (Dictionary, 1828). A warning, according to Webster's thesaurus from 1828, is an action, notification, or occurrence that alerts people to a risk or peril. Without a single apology, time passed on its own.

Tlepathy: “On the same days, meeting you makes me the happiest” The definition of “same” in the Webster's dictionary was “. Something that is comparable to another or similar in all 81 important ways.” The phrase “happiest” then came to mean the happiest of all. Joy was a sensation, a display, or an expression that was at ease in British English (Collins, 2021). Additionally, according to Webster's Thesaurus, the verb “meet” denoted an action that involved coming into contact with another person face-to-face. (2003) Geddes & Grosset.

Dis-ease: “Tap rotted rope continues to snarl. It is an illness; it is unstable. Perhaps I'm ill; I have a lot of ideas”. A disease is an aberrant condition that prevents a plant or animal from performing its regular biological activities, according to the thesaurus Meriam-Webster. Additionally, the conjunction because is used when something happened. Then, numerous adjectives referring to an enormous but limitless number and the following word; thought. A noun that is envisioned or described in the mind is called a thought. Therefore, the phrase “many thoughts” refers to the quantity of ideas or impressions that each person has.

Expressive analysis with song lyric “BE” (Deluxe Edition) music album By BTS.

Blue & grey: “It continued to roar and rap on the rotted rope. It is an illness; it is unstable. Maybe thinking too much has made me sick”. To feel happier, satisfaction, or enjoyment is to be happier than someone else. The lyricist contrasts his circumstances before and after learning about something or someone who, someday, helps him feel better as he had hoped for some time ago by using the close construction of the word happy. “My hands had been endlessly holding out,” the next sentence continued, “describing his fiercely torn desire to either choose to be cheerful with great sacrifices or to remain confined in thoughts of fear and worry shrouded in shadows." There's a chance that this ominous vision will trigger unpleasant recollections.

Stay: "Without moving, I chanted, my heart beating harder than before." Being repeatedly heard or moved is referred to as beating. Louder is the comparative form of the adjective complex, which denotes the capacity to tolerate difficulty, strain, or exposure (Geddes & Grosset, 2003).

The Values on "BE" (Deluxe Edition) Album by BTS.

- a) Character educational values. Fly to my room: "My dreams won't fit in this tiny space. Any emotion, including happiness and grief, is solely accepted here. If you hug me, even if sometimes this room becomes a dump of emotions". The message in the lyrics is that in order to accomplish your goal, you need value and take into account each event that takes place as well as your feelings. These moral precepts inspire people to venture outside of their comfort zones, discover new things, and evolve as humans. Therefore, succeeding in one's comfort zone, such as being lazy, will result in ignorance and deterioration.
- b) Religious character values. Life goes on: "There will come a moment when the world will abruptly end. Spring arrives exactly in time because it has no idea when to delay"
The moral principles of religion explain that sometimes you may receive unexpected gifts from the world, and other times you will have to work for what you want. God SWT. The phrase "Work hard because if you don't, Allah, His Messenger, and the believers won't see it. When you return to (Allah), who is aware of the actual and the invisible, He will tell you what you accomplished). (Q.S. At-Taubah [09:105]. Avoid it, but only after giving it a shot to ensure that you won't regret it. Through rigorous investigation using a mimetic technique, it is discovered that there is a connection between religious character education and work attitude in the religious ideals found in song lyrics. hard.
- c) Mental health in psychology values. Dis-Ease: "Tap rotted rope continues to snarl. It is an illness; it is unstable. Perhaps I'm ill; I have a lot of ideas". Preserving one's bodily and emotional wellness. Despite the fact that mental health cannot be seen from the outside, it can be deadly if not prevented and treated. In order to avoid being easily disturbed by busyness, unstable emotions, and other variables, it is important to maintain your health because it is the foundation of all activities. The ability to plan ahead and act in the appropriate manner that is, by acting professionally and with respect for the circumstances, is the mental health benefit of these lyrics, attitude, and tough.
- d) Character educational values. Telepathy: "On the same days, meeting you makes me the happiest". A positive impact on one's mental health will result from meeting remarkable or dear people. They will grow more enthusiastic about the ritual. Character education is important because it motivates us to strive for the things that bring us satisfaction. If we know before him that there will be a reward for our struggle or sacrifice, it will need time and patience to refrain from grumbling about what is being experienced. Blue & Grey: "It continued to roar and rap on the rotted rope. It is an illness; it is unstable. Maybe thinking too much has made me sick". A positive impact on one's mental health will result from meeting remarkable or dear people. They'll grow more enthusiastic about the ritual. Character education is valuable because it encourages us to work for goals that are the source of our happiness.
- e) Character education values. Stay: "Without moving, I chanted, my heart beating harder than before.". Being repeatedly heard or moved is referred to as beating. Louder is the comparative form of the adjective complex, which denotes the capacity to tolerate difficulty, strain, or exposure. Avoiding excessive evil ideas and resisting being quickly misled by the news are its educational benefits. This educational principle speaks to the requirement for regular social interactions to be characterized by a love of the truth and honesty. Turn merges into one.

CONCLUSSION

The study's findings suggest that the expression described by the author's mime is present in the lyrics of the six songs examined, specifically the emotions of grief, longing, bewilderment, enthusiasm, indecision, and optimism. If we know in front of him that there will be a reward for our struggle or sacrifice, it will need time and patience to not grumble about what is being gone through. Every song has a lesson or piece of advice on restraint, courage, perseverance, and other respectable characteristics that can help people build admirable character and successfully manage interpersonal relationships. The findings of this study are advantageous to instructors since they can be used as a supplementary tool for secondary school language and literature instruction. Then, in order to engage pupils while they are studying a foreign language, teachers can incorporate moral principles into well-known songs in that language that are criticized. Since employing this method, the teacher can understand how a pupil is acting in class or build a picture of reality. But it's anticipated that kids will be able to understand the song's message and advance their knowledge of various languages, particularly English as a second language.
